The center of Main Beach is Tedder Avenue. The street is lined with upmarket boutiques and some of the Gold Coast's best restaurants and bars. Around the area are also the Southport Yacht Club and the 6-star Palazzo Versace hotel (plus many more accommodation types). Don't let that discourage you though as it's still a friendly and relaxed beachside suburb. The suburb is bordered by the Ocean to the east, the Broadwater to the north, and the Nerang River to the south. Due to its desirability prices are high and demand certainly outweighs supply. On the beach side of the suburb, there are holiday and residential high rises, villas, townhouses, older three-story walk-ups, and a few free-standing houses. The Broadwater side is full of older homes dating back to the 1950s which have usually been kept safely in the family since they were built. These homes are all starting to undergo renovations and the results are exciting. There are also newer villas and townhouses – this area is strictly no high rises.
